

Edwin Walter TYLER (1901)

Edwin Walter TYLER gets a mention on the wall in Mill Street, behind The Castle pub - that building was his blacksmiths shop which ran along the back of The Castle pub.

Death of Mr. E.W. Tyler. – A native of the borough and one of the most esteemed tradesmen for over half a century, Mr. Edwin Walter Tyler, passed away at his residence, Oaklands, Castle-road, early yesterday (Friday) at the age of 83. Mr. Tyler was the proprietor of the ironmongery and oil business at 95 High-street from its commencement in 1882 until his son, Mr. Rex Tyler, took it over in 1936, and he has taken an active interest in the business since his retirement. He was a devoted member of the community of Brethren who worship at the Holyrood-hall, and a man of kindly and cheery temperament.

The Late Mr. E. W. Tyler – The Holyrood-hall was filled with friends paying their last tribute of respect to the late Mr. E.W. Tyler, of Oaklands, Castle-road, at the funeral service there on Tuesday. Mr. W.G.Turner, a minister of the Brethren in Kent and a close friend of the deceased, officiated and referred to Mr. Tyler as a man of great kindness of heart, a genial and loyal friend, who loved, trusted, and faithfully served his Master during a long and useful life. The words inscribed on the coffin plate “Gone home” were a happy tribute to the confidence he displayed in his life. He would be remembered as the backbone, stay, and balance of the worship of God in that place. The hymns “Asleep through Jesus,” “’Tis sweet to think of those at rest,” and “For ever with the Lord” were sung, Miss Quinton playing the organ accompaniments. The family mourners were Mr. and Mrs. C. Jolley (son-in-law and daughter), Messrs. Norman, Rex, and Wilfred Tyler (sons), Mesdames W. and A. Tyler (daughters-in-law), Mr. F. Robinson and the Misses R. and M. Tyler (grand-children), Mrs. P. Robinson, and Miss Shalders. Those also present included the Misses Webster and Langford and Messrs. J. Hart, D. Russell, and K. Jones (staff of Messrs. Tyler), the Rev. W.H. Mackinnon, Mrs. G.F. Quinton, Mr. and Mrs. F. Quinton, Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Walmsley, Mr. and Mrs.F.W. Lock and Mrs. Fry, Mr. and Mrs. H.M. and Miss Cooper (Thorley), Mr. and Mrs. F.J. and Miss Willshire (West Ashe), Mrs. Pearce, Mrs. Standage, Mr. and Mrs. A. Morris, Nurse Cheverton, Mrs. Boxall, Mrs. Davies, Mrs. and Miss Cutmore, Miss Barton, Mrs. Hutt, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lower (Carisbrooke), the Misses Stotesbury and Kell, and Messrs. L. Jordan, J.P., G.H. Snellgrove, W.D. Way Buckell, E.R. Dore, C.C., A. and W. Coward, W.S. North, A.L. Dore, E.H. Blake and R. Biddlecombe (Ryde), J.S.C. Gurney-Champion, J. Rankin, E.B. Dallimore (Springvale), R. Creeth (Nettlestone), C. Wyatt and W.G. Sibbick, J.P. (acting leader), and A.J. Williams, representing the St. John’s Men’s Bible Class. Other members of the congregation of Holyrood-hall also attended. The interment was at Carisbrooke Cemetery, and there were many beautiful floral tributes, including those from the Newport and Ryde staff of E. W. Tyler; the Women’s Meeting at the Holyrood-hall; and the Holyrood-hall Sunday-school. Mr. W Wells made the arrangements.
