Almost a Nonagenarian. – The death took place on Friday week, at the residence of her daughter (Mrs. B. Scovell) at 19 Carisbrooke Road, of Mrs. Elizabeth Moody, who would have reached her 90th birthday had she lived until February 3rd. A native of Calbourne she was the widow of Mr. William Moody, a former prison officer at Parkhurst, who following his retirement from the Prison Service, was for a time in business as a general provision merchant at Hunnyhill. Since his death Mrs. Moody has resided with her only daughter. She was well known and highly esteemed among the older residents of the borough, in which she had lived for the greater part of her long life. The funeral took place at Carisbrooke Cemetery on Tuesday.
