

Frank Attrill

1901 census, 1 & 2 Kennington Place, High Street, Carisbrooke

Frank Attrill	Head	42	Baker (own account)	Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight
Mary Jane Attrill	Wife	41		Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight
Nellie Eliza Attrill	Daughter	19	Teacher, Elem School	Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight
Albert Attrill	Son	17	Clerk, Solicitor's Office	Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight
Lucy Attrill	Daughter	16	Dressmaker's apprentice	Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight
Ethel Louise Attrill	Daughter	14		Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight
Mary Jane Attrill	Daughter	13		Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight
Frank Attrill	Son	13		Carisbrooke, Isle of Wight
Walter Snow	Visitor	8		Northwood, Isle of Wight

Isle of Wight County Press – 27 June 1903

CARISBROOKE.

DEATH OF MR. FRANK ATTRILL. – The death, on Tuesday morning, after a brief illness, of Mr. Frank Attrill, verger of the Parish-church, has called forth many and sincere expressions of regret and sympathy. Mr. Attrill, who for many years had carried on the business of baker, at High-street, was in his usual health till towards the end of last week, when he began to feel the effects of a serious internal strain. His illness developed so seriously that Dr. Thompson ordered his removal on Monday to the Royal I.W. County Hospital for an operation, which was successfully performed the same day; but unfortunately he died next morning before the members of his family, who had been summoned, arrived at the Hospital. The late Mr. Attrill had been verger and caretaker of the Parish-church for some five years, he was a Sunday-school teacher, and also the principal of the parish bell-ringers, as well as a very cheerful and active parochial worker in other ways. He had been an Oddfellow for many years and the Earl Yarborough Lodge owes much to his "recruiting" power in the Carisbrooke district. The deceased was held in high esteem by all with whom he was brought into contact, and great sympathy is felt with the widow and family in their bereavement.

Transcription by Tony Barton for the Friends of Newport & Carisbrooke Cemeteries © 2018

<https://www.foncc.org.uk>