OCTOGENARIAN'S DEATH. - The passing last week, after a brief illness, of Mr. J. N. Borders, of Windyridge, Medina-road, who was 87, removed a familiar figure. His geniality and cheeriness brought him many friends. He had been living quietly in retirement for a good many years. One of his daughters last year married Mr. Frank Shepard, of Newport, and another (Miss Ella Borders) is a popular vocalist. The funeral took place at Carisbrooke Cemetery on Thursday week. Among the floral tributes was one from Sir Charles Marston, head of Messrs. Marston, Ltd., a noted Wolverhampton firm, in whose service deceased was for 30 years.
