DEATH OF MR. W.S. LEDICOTT. – The death occurred on Thursday at his residence, 42 Crocker-street, after a seven years' illness, of Mr. William Smith Ledicott, aged 78, well known throughout the Island as the proprietor of the "old curiosity shop" in Holyrood-street, and an expert dealer in curios and antiques. He was an ardent Conservative, and at election times past days were clever and amusing with his caricatures and poetic and other squibs. One of his sons has been killed in the war, and three others are serving. Much sympathy is felt for the widow and family.
