

George Jolliffe

Isle of Wight County Press - 11 March 1950

NEWPORT

Death of a Former "County Press" Employee.- The death occurred on Wednesday at the County Hospital of Mr. George Jolliffe, aged 67, of 11 Albert Street, who for 54 years, until his retirement in September last, had rendered exemplary service to the I.W. County Press Co. in the successive capacities of compositor, machinist, and warehouseman. A life-long member of the P.S.A. Brotherhood and an earnest worshipper and supporter of all activities in connection with the Congregational Church, he was much respected in the town. His death followed an operation. Sincere sympathy is felt with Mrs. Jolliffe, who is an invalid, and with the family of two sons and three daughters. The funeral will take place on Monday, a private service at the house preceding interment at Newport Cemetery. - Mrs. Jolliffe and family thank the sister and nurses of the Beatrice Ward, also Mr. Gaynor for kind attention to Mr. Jolliffe during his short illness.

The Late Mr. G. Jolliffe.- The funeral of Mr. George Jolliffe, of 11 Albert Street, who was for 54 years a respected employee of the I.W. County Press Company, took place on Monday, a service at the house preceding interment at the Newport Cemetery. The Rev. N. Spoor (minister of the Congregational Church) officiated, and the mourners were Mrs. F. K. Jolliffe (widow), Mr. and Mrs. S. Jolliffe (son and daughter-in-law), Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Watson, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Williams (sons-in-law and daughters), Mr. and Mrs. J. Diffey, Mr. and Mrs. F. Draper, and Mr. and Mrs. B. Thomas (brothers-in-law and sisters), and Mrs. A. Jolliffe (sister-in-law, also representing Mr. Gilbert Jolliffe, brother). Those also present at the committal included Mr. W. G. Sibbick, J.P., editor, "I.W. County Press" (also representing Lt.-Col. C. W. Brannon, M.C., T.D., D.L., J.P., manager and director, "I.W. County Press Co."), Messrs. G. S. H. Allen (editorial department), E. Melhuish, P. C. Morgan, R. H. Allen, R. Hannam, and B. P. R. Smith (news composing department), P. Appel (jobbing department, also representing the I.W. Branch of the Typographical Association), and R. T. Lawn, sen. (machine department). Mr. Jolliffe was a well known member of the Newport Court of Foresters, in which he had held most of the offices, and the Order was represented by Mr. J. Clarke (district secretary). Others present included Messrs. H. Hollis and F. W. Munt (members of the Newport Brotherhood).

Messrs. O. C. Hamilton and Son made the arrangements.- Mrs. Jolliffe and family thank the directors and staff of the County Press, the Typographical Association, and all relatives, friends, and neighbours of Albert Street and Terrace Road for their beautiful floral tributes and messages of sympathy. Please accept this as the only acknowledgment, as letters are too numerous to answer individually.
