

Morris Ephraim Jackman

1891 census, 1 Albion Terrace, St. John's Road, Carisbrooke

| | | | | |
|-----------------------|-------------|-----------|----------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Morris Jackman | Head | 67 | Living on own means | Newport, Isle of Wight |
| Ellen Jackman | Wife | 58 | | Churchill, Somerset |
| Elizabeth K Jackman | Daughter | 35 | Teacher of Music | Newport, Isle of Wight |
| Marian M Judd | Visitor | 29 | | Newport, Isle of Wight |
| Norman H Judd | Visitor | 4 | | Cookham, Berkshire |
| Frederick M Stephens | Grandson | 11 | | Lymington, Hampshire |
| Elizabeth J Cham | Servant | 14 | Domestic Servant | Freshwater, Isle of Wight |

Isle of Wight County Press – 19 December 1903

NEWPORT.

DEATH OF MR. MORRIS JACKMAN. – By the passing away of Mr. Morris Jackman, which we regretfully record, Newport loses a citizen whose genial presence has been familiar in its streets for a generation. For many years he carried on very successfully the business of a watchmaker and silversmith in Lower St. James's-street, and his name and personality in that connection were well-known in most parts of the Isle of Wight. He relinquished this business some years ago, and the later part of his life was spent in happy and comfortable retirement, the end coming very peacefully on Saturday last, at the age of 79 years. He had held various parochial offices and at the time of his death he was a member of the Newport Burial Board. He was also one of the oldest members of the Hand-in-Hand Friendly Society. In politics he was a staunch Liberal, but he held and expressed his views with studied moderation and unfailing courtesy. He took a great interest in many sports, cricket having especial charms for him. He was one of the most regular attendants at Newport matches, following the games with a keenness which never flagged, and while local patriotism was with him so strong a sentiment that he always longed to see Newport win, he bestowed his applause with true sportsmanlike impartiality whenever good play was exhibited, no matter by whom. His personal affability and kindness won for him the sincere regard of all with whom he came in contact and he leaves behind him a pleasant memory. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at Newport Cemetery. Prior to the interment there was a short service at the house, attended by the family and a number of the Brethren, with whom the deceased was religiously associated. The service at the graveside was of a very impressive character, being conducted by Mr. A. James, who gave a touching address, after which the hymn "For ever with the Lord" was sung and the service concluded with prayer by Mr. C. Jackman, of Ryde, brother of the deceased. The principal mourners included Miss Jackman (daughter), Mr. and Mrs. Judd (son-in-law and daughter), Mr. and Mrs. Price (son-in-law and daughter), Messrs. A. and W. Jackman (sons), Mr. C. Jackman (brother), and Mr. G. B. Purkis, J.P. Six of the Brethren acted as bearers – Messrs. A. Caws, W. Tyler, C. Bull, F. Gustar, H. Kingswell, and P. Grist (Coves). Other Brethren attending included Messrs. A. Cook, A. H. Stagg, T. E. Loosemore (Ventnor), G. Quinton, sen., G. Handley (Southsea), and Burrows (Wroxall). Amongst those also present were the Mayor, Mr. C. Salter, C.C. (secretary), and Mr. H. Harvey (trustee), representing the Hand-in-Hand Society; Ald. R. B. Cheverton, J.P., and Messrs. G. D. Rich, T.C., A. Millidge, and W. Weeks (clerk), representatives of the Newport Burial Board; Mr. C.T. Allee, Mr. F. W. B. Waterworth, and others. Mr. G. F. Quinton was undertaker.

National Probate Calendar, 1904

JACKMAN Morris Ephraim of Newport Isle of Wight died 12 December 1903 Probate London 25 April to George Barnard Purkis outfitter Charles Thomas Allee rate-collector Arthur David Jackman outfitter and George Fielder Quinton builder Effects £4217 12s. 2d. [approx £508k 2019]

Transcription and research by Bob Jacobs for the Friends of Newport & Carisbrooke Cemeteries © 2019

<https://www.foncc.org.uk>